

The day _____ was born was the happiest day in
_____’s life. “He’s perfect,” said his mother.

“Absolutely,” said _____.

And he was. He was absolutely perfect.

“His name must be everything he is,” said his mother.

“His name must be absolutely perfect,” said his father.

And it was.

His _____ named him _____.

And _____ grew. And he grew. And he grew.

And when he was old enough to appreciate it, _____ loved his name.